Letter From the President

April 2020

Howdy Friends.

I sure did miss seeing you all in person on the 21st (of March). Our speaker presented via ZOOM, and for our first rodeo, it worked out well. Thanks to Chrissy and Diane for making it happen. Chrissy posted the recording to our Facebook page, so if you missed the live presentation, you can find it there. It was also nice to see some friendly writer faces after the presentation and chat over the Internet for a while.

Our first virtual write-in also happened via ZOOM. Thanks to new member Jennifer Looft for playing hostess on March 28th. It was nice to see faces other than the ones we've been looking at for days or maybe weeks.

Our April meeting will also take place via ZOOM on the 18th. If you haven't yet signed up for your free account, you can do so at any time. Chrissy and I'll will be brainstorming ideas, so if you have some thoughts, send them my way--y'all know how to reach me by now, right? :0) We'll keep you updated.

the new RWA board is doing all they can while also trying to deal with their personal lives and COVID-19.

My least favorite phrase right now is “in these uncertain times.” One day, I heard three commercials in a row on the radio that said that. Ugh.

I hope that you’re all as well as can be expected. I know some of you (waves at Susie) have had your routines turned upside down and others haven’t seen a huge change in their home lives (raises hand)--to that end I’ve put the newsletter together for Susie this month, so forgive me for whatever you ended up with.

As for me, we’re chugging along here in the FitzGerald household and as owners of a Managed Services Provider (basically an IT company on steroids and with additional services), we’re considered essential. We get to make sure all of our clients can keep doing what they do, which ranges from masonry/brick laying, to manufacturing, to legal services. So my work life hasn’t changed much either. I just don’t get to see you all in person once a month, which makes me very sad. I am definitely grateful we have various platforms that allow us to remain in communication with one another.

Take care, my friends.

Jen

There are no minutes because we had no physical meeting and I sent a report out to you all directly along with the Treasurer's Report.

APRIL'S MEETING

We'll be gathering via ZOOM once again for some combination of brainstorming, writing, and or visiting.

Chrissy and I are hashing out the details and will get them out to y'all soon.

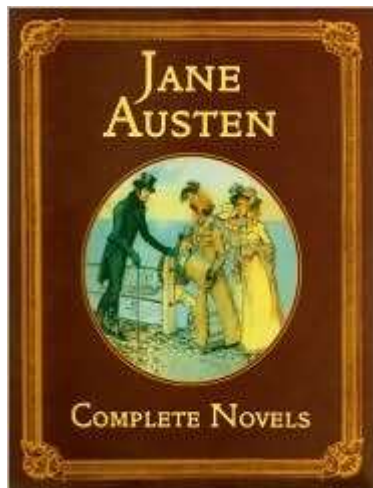

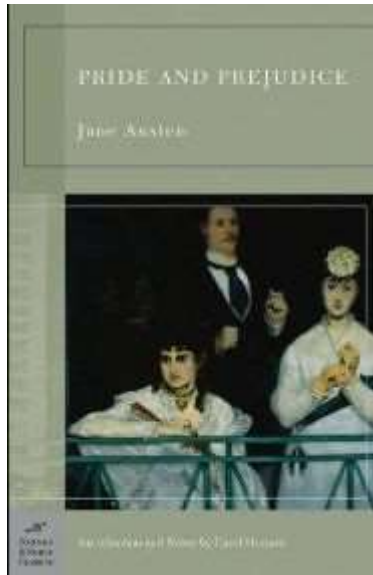

Mark NT on your calendar as usual.

Jen

I did an informal poll on our Facebook group asking for favorite romance novels and movies and this is what we got from Lisa, Regina, and Jen.

Can you guess who chose which book and movie?
